Female Entrepreneurs Build Their Empires Together

Wisconsin's newest female-forward coworking space +club. It's not about excluding men, it's about elevating women.

Green Bay, WI: Women are creating, building, and thriving in their dream of entrepreneurship. In this dream of creating a business, most often, it happens alone. The desire that women can form a community where support is abundant and each woman can gain access to resources that speak to their needs, desires, and wants is an opportunity that the founders of The Nest are here to act on.

Just imagine a place for women who seek council, community, and confidence in one space. This space is The Nest Cowork + Club.

Space for women to join experiential events, create a network of powerful women and celebrate the limitless potential to thrive on their terms. The Nest Cowork + Club is a community and movement created by women for women. We desire to support connection and collaboration to inspire, motivate, and champion women to be authentic change makers. Together, we are building a movement to create space for female-forward changemakers to be impactful, build empires, and receive all. the. coin.

Originally founded by Jess Hopp and Alex VandeHei, The Nest Cowork + Club is thrilled to announce the partnership with Kaela Gedda and Sonny Hennessy. Together, the four powerful women will champion the movement of female entrepreneurship in Wisconsin:
